

JTLYK Reception
Friday 5th July 2019

Do you have

A copy of Eric Carle's 'The Quiet Grasshopper' that we could borrow next week? We promise to look after it if you do!

Please send in a cardboard egg carton next week if you can - we need it for our craft making next week - thank you!

See you at the Summer Fair on Saturday!

Dear Parents

We are very proud of how the children really embraced the transition day this week. They were all beautifully behaved and very excited to be Year One children for a few hours!

We all had great fun at our 'Ugly Bug Ball' today and thank you for providing such great costumes for your children! They had a wonderful experience today; singing and dancing, making butterfly cookies and making colourful caterpillars!

Next week is our annual sports day and we have been practising our running, javelin, egg and spoon, obstacle course and sack racing. We look forward to seeing you straight after drop off on the field - please see the Newsletter for further details.

Our little caterpillars arrived this week and we are watching them carefully for any signs of them changing. The children are enjoying writing their 'Caterpillar Diaries' using their phonics independently - well done everyone!

The children are very tired at the moment, so please take some 'down time' to relax this weekend as we have another 'big' week coming up!

Reception Team :))