Dear Parents

My goodness we have had a busy week! Not only have we been writing lots of character descriptions for our Jack and the Beanstalk stories, but we have used lots of WOW words too. We are really starting to see more curly handwriting and 'Super Sentence Skills' being used in the children's work.

The children have worked hard in phonics too, learning and consolidating their skills. Do keep up with the Sound of the Week books at home, they really do make a difference! Today we were very lucky to have Suzy Blackley in Year One to teach us how to make our very own growing Beanstalk complete with characters!

Have a great weekend. Sarah and Sheena :))

Maths Corner

This week we have been revising our adding and taking away skills. We have been learning to think about which resources can help us the most; fingers, number line, unifix cubes, 100 square?

Try solving these number sentences at home and choose either your fingers or pasta shapes to help. Remember to count carefully!
