

Just to let you know...

Imagining the journey in another's footsteps...

Dear Parents,

We have had a wonderful week, thinking about Harvest Festival and supporting both a local charity, the Guildford Food Bank and the Indonesian Disaster Relief Fund.

John Eagle, the Roman expert, wasn't able to join us but we had a super 'Roman Day' of our own with lots of fun activities.

We are very excited about tonight's Firework extravaganza. Why not come along and join us.

Have a great weekend,
Emily, Sarah and Nick

In RE, we have been thinking about prayer and what it means to pray. We thought about the who we share our feelings with and decided that trusted friends are needed for this. We thought about how Christians share their feelings with God and we then looked at The Lord's Prayer, the prayer that Jesus taught. We analysed the words and phrases to ensure we understood it. Then we wrote our own prayers.

Spellings

build, busy, business, guard, guide, quarter, question

This week we have been looking at words with a sneaky 'u' in them. We can't always hear them in the word. Our English text is Aquila, which also has a sneaky 'u'.

Please keep practising the spellings at home and be creative with your methods for learning them. Look in their red

In maths, we have been working with Roman numerals.

We had to focus hard to learn each numeral value and then we tried addition questions.

We found that column addition wouldn't work with Roman numerals as they are 'sign value notation', which means that wherever the symbol is, it remains the same value. Can they remember what CCXXXIV is?

In History, we looked at the Roman Invasion of Britain and its significance. We began making our clever overlaid maps showing Britain before the invasion and then as it was as Roman Britain. We will be considering the legacy of the Romans.

Fireworks

Don't forget tonight's Super Firework Spectacular! Wrap up warm and come along to 'Ooh!' and 'Aah!' at the fizzes, bangs and whizzes. HTSC will be providing warm and nourishing refreshments. The bonfire will be lit at 7.00pm and the firework display will begin around 7.30pm.